

FINE RATING FOR STATE MILITIA

Only State In 13th Division
That Has Marking of Excellent

The war department at Washington has given out the ratings of the national guard of the various states, and the inefficiency of the organization is astonishing. Throughout the country there are 1,559 regiments of infantry, divided into sixteen divisions. They are marked excellent, very good, good, fair and poor. The table shows that of the 1,559 regiments, 261 are rated "poor," only 53 "excellent," 217 "very good," 546 "good," and 492 "fair." Wisconsin is in the thirteenth division, which is rated as follows:

	excellent	very good	good	fair	poor
N. Dakota	0	2	5	5	0
S. Dakota	0	0	5	5	2
Minnesota	0	4	16	12	2
Wisconsin	53	18	14	2	0
Iowa	0	9	15	18	4

Total 6 33 55 45 8
In view of the conditions in Mexico and the fear that the national guard may be called upon to go to that country the above figures and the report of the war department are significant. The splendid condition of the Wisconsin national guard makes it quite probable that in case the militia is called upon the Badgers will be among the first to be required to go to the front, although it is not at all likely that it will be necessary, as the regular army will no doubt be able to cope with the situation, and if the guard is called it will be only to do patrol duty along the international border.

SPARE THE SMALL WATER CONSUMER

"Tax Payer" Thinks Large
Consumers Should Be Metered First

Rhineland, Wis., Apr. 3, 1916.
Editor New North,
Rhineland, Wis.

Dear Sir:—
In regard to your editorials of March 3 and 30, relating to the question of metering the service pipes of the city water works in which you favor metering at service, it occurred to me that those editorials were written without giving the matter careful consideration.

In the first place there are about one thousand small consumers and if they were compelled to install meters the cost of them would be about fifteen dollars per meter, or a total of fifteen thousand dollars. In checking up the service lists it appears that the small consumers have been paying nearly all; (or at least the greater part) of the city's income from the water plant and larger consumers, who are using the greater part of the water which is pumped by the city are paying a very small amount in comparison. I have in mind one plant in the city which must be using about as many gallons of water as two hundred ordinary families and are paying the city $60.00 per year, when it would sum that $60.00 per month would be about what they should pay and this is only one of several. I can not believe that you would advocate placing a burden of fifteen thousand dollars on the parties who have been paying the greater part of the water rates if you had given the question careful consideration. Meters were installed at one time on several service pipes and had to be removed on account of becoming clogged by a sediment in the water but I presume that larger meters would not be so liable to become clogged. If you consider that the city should receive more revenue from the water plant than they are now receiving, I would suggest that you advocate that the large consumers be metered and put upon a per thousand gallon basis, which I think would increase the city's income to quite an extent.

I also believe that the one thousand small consumers would be willing to contribute the fifteen thousand dollars to improve the quality of the city water by filtering or even straining it.

Respectfully yours,
Taxpayer and Water User.
Miss Esther Jewell of Crescent will be in Rhineland Friday to attend "The Birth of a Nation." While here she will visit at the home of her cousin, Miss Margaret Jewell.

STEVENS MILL IS BEING REBUILT

Some time ago announcement was made by the Stevens Lumber Co. that the saw mill would be enlarged and that work would commence just as soon as the weather would permit in the spring. After a most successful winter's run the plant was closed down ten days ago for the contemplated improvements to be made and every available man that could be used on the work was employed with the hope by the company that operations could be resumed within thirty days, and from the present outlook it seems likely that the hum of the saws and machinery will be heard within that time.

The changes to be made will practically double the output of the plant, which will be of the double band mill type with re-saws and two edgers. To make room for this the mill is being extended northward, taking the space heretofore occupied by the filing room, which will hereafter be a third story section directly over the main portion of the mill. This new arrangement will afford excellent light as windows can be put in on all four sides. Besides the new band mills re-saws and edgers to be put in there will also be other new and improved machinery added and the boiler room equipment will be changed considerably to meet the added requirements for extra power. The exterior appearance of the mill will be entirely changed and as noted above the interior equipment will be changed wherever it is thought efficiency will be improved by so doing.

MEMORIES OF BY-GONE DAYS

Members Of Ladies' Aid Society Recall Events Of the Early 80's

The Ladies' Aid of the Congregational church met at the Rapids House yesterday with forty-six in attendance. The afternoon was spent in the usual way except that reminiscences were more in evidence. At five o'clock the ladies came marching down stairs on their way to the dining room where refreshments were served. Music was furnished by Paul Gaston on the violin and Mrs. LaMotte at the piano. After the lunch, several of the Aid members spoke. Mrs. Shelton told the ladies how the Rapids House had been her temporary home when first she came to Rhineland and how some of the earliest Aids were held there. Mrs. Chaffee spoke of the places where the ladies had met—at Conroy's and Brown's mills and other places that would seem primitive to the present Aid members. Mrs. Reardon told how twenty-seven years ago she came to the Rapids House as a bride. Mrs. W. E. Brown described some of the difficulties surmounted by former Aids. Different members added to the details, as to how upon one Aid day the ladies assembled at the Brown Bros' boarding house, piled into the dump cart, by which means they were conveyed (in a standing position, it not being possible to ride otherwise) to the Brown farm, where Mr. and Mrs. L. Horst received the party. It had been agreed upon to call this social a "weighing party" as cards, which were thought by some to be out of place at a church Aid, so the weighing party alighted or were "dumped" and went into the house, where to their amazement and chagrin two of the staunch followers were playing cards, with the kitchen stove used as a table.

Two of the oldest record books have been unearthed by Mrs. Shepard and show that on Nov. 17, 1886, the ladies, six in number, met with Mrs. McLaughlin to organize a Ladies' Aid Society.

Mrs. Jenkinson was the first president. There were two vice presidents, Mrs. J. L. DeVoin and Mrs. A. Slewright. Sec. Mrs. McLaughlin, Treas. Mrs. Crofoot. There were five executive officers, Mrs. W. E. Brown, Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. I. Tuttle, Mrs. Vessey and Mrs. Hunsinger, who were to provide for a literary program for Xmas. This large number of officers took practically all the members.

From these small beginnings the Aid has grown to be a large and useful body and aid to the church. The pioneer members felt that this meeting would probably be the last to be held in the Rapids House, a place that holds more reminiscences than any building in this city.

Miss Pike of Portage is in the city this week.

Not in a number of years has a city election in Rhineland created the interest that was displayed in the contest for offices which closed with the counting of the ballots Tuesday night. The vote totaled nearly 1100, which was a larger number than was looked for by many.

In the three cornered fight for mayor Grant V. Clark was the victor, with a vote lacking but seven of being as large as that cast for the two opposing candidates, carrying every ward in the city but the third. (Pecor's ward) and getting one-half of the votes cast therein. While Mr. Clark's election was looked for, his most sanguine supporters were surprised at the result.

In the race for treasurer Chas. Morrill had a big lead over Carl Krueger, and for comptroller, Otto Bonnie defeated Geo. Jewell by a two to one vote. Morris McRae had no opposition for the office of assessor and he received 808 votes. In the first ward Olaf Goldstrand was elected as alderman without opposition and Andrew Olson likewise for supervisor. H. D. Fletcher won over Andrew Houg for alderman in the second ward and Jos. Skubal, Jr., defeated John Swedberg for alderman in the third ward. For supervisors in these wards there was no contest and the old members were returned.

In the fourth ward Prescott Calkins, a former member of the council, and Al. Hafner were in the race for aldermen, the latter winning the office by a margin of fourteen votes. Thos. E. Dunn was chosen supervisor without opposition. In the fifth ward no contest was on and Will Gilligan as alderman and J. M. Baker as supervisor will continue to represent their ward.

In the sixth ward three candidates were before the people for aldermen and two for supervisors. Mike McDermott, who has served on the council for several terms was defeated by Dan Noble, who received 123 votes to 111 for McDermott. Bert Green the third candidate was given forty votes. Jay E. Russ was chosen supervisor by a large majority over Geo. I. Clark his opponent. The figures below give the vote in detail.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

On Sunday John Nelson a boarder at the Tremont House on Thayer street plunged head foremost down the stairs leading from the second story of the building and was picked up unconscious with blood streaming from both his ears and from the mouth. It was at first thought the man's skull was fractured and that death would result in a short time. He was hurried to the hospital and medical attention given him. His injuries, while of a serious nature, will not prevent his recovery but he will be laid up for some time.

Mr. Nelson, who is a man about fifty years of age, has a crippled leg from a previous attack of rheumatism and in starting down stairs made a misstep and caught his foot in such a manner as to cause him to plunge forward.

SENTENCE OF FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Mary Cholewinski, who several weeks ago made an assault upon her husband, using a revolver as a weapon, was taken to Wausau last week where she entered a plea of guilty to the charge brought against her and received a sentence of five years at Wausau prison. She was afterwards paroled by Judge Reid and has returned to her family here.

The home life of husband and wife has been a continual series of quarrels for several years, culminating in the assault mentioned above. The couple will hereafter live apart, two grown up boys having agreed to care for their mother. Should the woman at any time during the five year period overstep the terms of the parole, she must serve the time remaining of the sentence.

MINOCQUA HAS WILD WEST TACTICS ON ELECTION DAY

Election day at Minocqua was in the nature of a Wild West, Buffalo Bill exhibition. It was the wildest day yet recorded in the annals of the city, unless one goes back to the time when the former inhabitants rushed down in war paint and feathers and with true Indian whoops and yells carried off their plunder.

While returns are difficult to obtain, an eye witness tells us that the most vivid imagination would fall short in a description of the real thing.

The trouble started at the very beginning as to whom should preside as chairman of the election board. It was a question whether Mr. Stamp or Mr. Rogers should act. The motion was put and it was claimed that the eyes carried and Mr. Stamp was selected. The others objected, claiming the eyes were not in majority. The opposition tried to seize the ballot boxes. In the melee that followed, the constable, Roy Johnson was hit over the head, or at any rate was rendered unconscious. Deputy Sheriff John Sutton was not allowed to exercise his authority. The combatants evidently, were armed with clubs as the "bills" flew thick and fast. It was hinted that a gun finally stopped the fray. But in the streets the fight went all day with many knock outs as a result.

When the votes were counted, returns showed that the opposition had carried with Mr. Torpy as chairman. Evidently trouble was expected as the Bolger element had retained Attorney Riley of Wausau and the opposition had Attorney Lamoreaux of Ashland.

Charges have been made and it is expected that arrests will follow. District Attorney O'Melia was in Minocqua yesterday.

An 8-foot Spread From a 45-inch Box

IN the Low Corn King catalogue it takes pages to tell about the good construction that backs up the "8-foot-wide spread from a narrow 45-inch box." Here the space is limited.

See the spreader and study these things: The simple worm and worm gear which drive the apron can be reversed, doubling the wear qualities. The gear is entirely enclosed, away from dust and dirt. The relation of beater and apron is just right to do the best work on the manure with the least power. Low Corn King is a steel spreader—frame, beater axles, wheels, driving parts—all of light, strong, compact steel. You return the apron by a convenient foot lever—no hand cranking, no getting down from seat.

These things—remember—back up the even, satisfactory 8-foot-or-better wide spread. Get acquainted with the Low Corn King spreader. See the local dealer who sells it.

DUCK FLIGHT NOW STARTED

The flight of ducks to the north has begun and it would be well for the hunters to observe the law prohibiting the spring shooting of them. The Federal Migratory Bird Law also prohibits the spring shooting of ducks, and all violations of the Wisconsin laws are reported by this department to the Federal authorities and the violators apprehended will be prosecuted by the Federal authorities after paying the penalty imposed by our state courts.

Hunters should also bear in mind that the statute of limitations in these cases gives two years after the violations are committed to start action, and violators can be brought into court at any time should evidence be found upon which to base the prosecution.

The law also provides that any person making complaint and furnishing evidence which leads to the conviction of a violator is entitled to one third of the fine imposed. It is not at all unusual for cases to be brought into court long after the violations are committed and it is indeed unsafe for any hunter to feel secure from prosecution even though he should escape immediate detection.

The Conservation Commission has made several prosecutions during the past six months where the offense was committed several months before, and in every case the violators were found guilty and fined. We have several cases at the present time under investigation and no doubt prosecutions will soon follow.

It is therefore advisable that all hunters observe the law and avoid the danger of prosecution.

LITTLE CHATS ABOUT POULTRY

The early spring is the time when the poultry raiser's thoughts are in largest measure turned to the subject of chick raising. Therefore, it is timely now to consider when to do the hatching. And the season's result depend far oftener than is generally known, on just when the chicks are brought out. The beginner is naturally the worst offender in bringing out chicks at the proper time.

Where incubators are in use and especially where they are in inexperienced hands, the tendency seems to be to produce as many chicks as possible in a season. This often means the mistake of both starting the hatching too early in the season and continuing it too late into the hot weather. Of course, when early chicks are wanted for broilers there is an excuse for hatching early but experience is necessary for a venture of this kind and the equipment in houses, brooders, etc. must be right if success is to be had. Besides, high prices are obtained for early broilers only because of the risk you run in producing them. On this account it is better for the beginner to go slow in attempting to raise winter chicks.

As with many other phases of the poultry business you cannot say there is any hard and fast rule about the time of hatching, for allowances must be made for the variation in climate in different sections of the country. The breed also should be considered, together with the purpose for which the stock is intended. Even the equipment at hand for properly handling the chicks enters into the proper timing of hatching. Ordinarily there is no necessity for getting chicks out before the coming of real spring weather. Then, conditions are right for keeping them healthy and making a quick growth with very little danger of chick losses.

The egg from which the chick is to be hatched is also an important consideration, for the chick can be no better than the egg. Breeding stock that is necessarily closely confined during the winter months will not produce eggs as desirable for hatching as the eggs that come later on when the weather permits the birds to run out of doors at least a part of the time. The change is much needed. It means more activity, and results in better egg fertility because conditions then approach nearer to what nature intended for the breeding fowl. Just about this time too, the birds should be doing their best laying working off any excess fat and excess fat by no means adds to egg fertility. Since successful chick raising depends largely on the use of good eggs, try to handle your breeding stock in such a way that the eggs will be right at the time you plan to use them.

In the northern states the last of April and early part of May is perhaps the best time for getting out the chicks. The heavier breeds requiring more time to mature, are better hatched as early as season will allow, while with smaller breeds like the Leghorn there is no reason for rushing things, for if hatched in May they will start laying in fall when egg prices are commencing to get attractive. There is a serious objection to hatching small breeds earlier than April for when this is done there is danger if they make a satisfactory growth of their going into a molt before winter, perhaps after laying a few eggs. The waste of time in growing the unnecessary new coat of feathers means quite a loss to their owner.

Where chicks do not have the advantage of free range, or where the different ages cannot be yarded separately until they reach maturity, by far the best plan is to hatch all the chicks that are to be raised at about the same time, at least with not more than a couple of weeks variation. If there is much difference in the age of chicks raised together in confinement, the larger ones may turn out as expected but it is quite certain the younger brood will prove a sore disappointment. The bigger chicks will get the best of the feed and also be a constant annoyance to the smaller ones.

It is not advisable to hatch chicks after May for with the coming of summer heat the breeding stock loses in vigor and there is great danger of over heating the small chicks in the hot sun or by confining them to poorly constructed or poorly ventilated coops. Late chicks seldom make good size and their unthrifty condition encourages various diseases. Chickpox, roup and colds are always found more troublesome among these late hatches.

LOOK TO COMFORT OF FARMERS

The following which appeared in a recent issue of the New London Press applies equally as well to Rhinelanders as to that town and is given in the hope that some action may follow in this city along the lines as suggested therein:

"Of course we have all heard of 'killing the goose that lays the golden egg.' We think too much of our splendid farmer friends to liken them to the awkward feathery tribe, but they surely are the people with the golden eggs. And isn't it just possible that we of the town are the 'geese,' in that we fail to take measures to connect up with the eggs of gold? Isn't it possible that we are neglecting the interests of the farmer to the extent that he in time becomes indifferent to us and sends his baskets of precious metals to other points in payment for his necessities? Again we suggest a broader spirit of reciprocity. We suggest that measures be taken to see that our former friends are afforded every facility for the prompt and profitable marketing of their every produce right in this town. It does not require any great amount of intelligence for a person to see the financial significance of such a course. And don't neglect the wife and daughter of the farmer when they, too, come to town. It should not be necessary for them to spend hours on their feet waiting for the farmer to transact his business before returning. A comfortable waiting room should be provided in the heart of the town, where they can while away the tedious hours of waiting by reading, writing or visiting with one another. Let it be a general meeting place for all who come to town. When we do this we will find more of the farmer's golden eggs rolling into this town. Let's combine business sagacity and neighborliness to our common good."

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Rhineland citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Mrs. J. Standinger, 727 Arbutus St., Rhineland, says: "I was bothered by retention of the kidney secretions and once I had to call in a physician. Finally I had the good fortune to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon gave me relief. After I took a couple of boxes, my kidneys became normal and I had no further need of a kidney medicine until two years ago. Then trouble with my kidneys set in and they acted too often. I again took Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me quick relief."

NEW VEGETABLE DYE

Brazil has solved the dye problem, according to Frank G. Lapez, South American representative of a Detroit automobile corporation.

"There is no reason to worry about the dye situation," said Mr. Lapez. "The vegetable dyes in Brazil will solve the problem. I have been in cotton factories in Brazil and have seen every possible attempt to boil out and otherwise eradicate the new vegetable dye, but the color remained fast."

"The vegetable from which this dye is made is in unlimited supply. It would not be surprising to see it replace the German product. So far as experts are able to determine, it does not injure fabrics."

"I expect that before long the congregation will be in a place where it will not require so much effort to keep warm," announced a clergyman from the pulpit of a church at Woodbury Vt., on a cold Sunday morning, when the temperature was near zero, where at there was a titter throughout the congregation. TO DEMONSTRATE LAND CLEARING

Special Train and Crew to Tour Several Counties for the Work

To demonstrate easy, quick, and cheap ways of clearing logged-off or cut-over land, the "Land Clearing Limited" will tour eleven of the principal counties of Wisconsin timber belt beginning some time in April.

The "stumping special" will be distinctly a working proposition of the most political nature, intended as a demonstration to help men who have settled or will settle in the undeveloped, cut-over regions of the state.

The train, consisting of one flat car, two box cars, for equipment, two "boarding" cars and one "bunk" car, will be operated through the cooperation of the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Omaha railroads with the College of Agriculture, University of Wisconsin and a number of the leading manufacturers of land clearing apparatus and explosives.

County agricultural representatives in a number of the counties to be visited will make all necessary arrangements to secure the cooperation of farmers and land companies in furnishing men and teams to aid in the various demonstrations.

A crew of men, thoroughly familiar with the methods of land clearing to be shown, will accompany the train. Machines for pulling and piling the stumps will be carried by the demonstrators, including gasoline, horse, and hand stumpers. Modern "safety first" systems for the use of explosives in land clearing will also be shown.

Two or three stops will be made during each week of the trip, which will cover about two months' time. Each demonstration will be made as near the tracks as possible under actual working conditions. The old plan of making a few spectacular stump removals and then leaving for new fields will not be followed. On each tract a clean sweep will be taken of all stumps in sight.

At each of the places the demonstration field will be divided into plots requiring equal amount of energy to clear them for the plow. Demonstrations for the various types of pullers will select their plots by lot, visiting farmers, thus being given a chance to decide for themselves what process or processes are best suited to conditions on their own land. In case of unfavorable weather the demonstrations will consist of illustrated talks in the town halls or other meeting places, where charts, lantern slides and models will be displayed and explained and questions answered.

The route of the "Land Clearing Limited" will be definitely announced next week, when all details will be complete. The counties, however, to be included in the itinerary are: Oconto, Forest, Langlade, Oneida, Vilas, Bayfield, Douglas, Washburn, Sawyer, Barron, and Chippewa.

The clearing of the large acreage of cut-over land in northern Wisconsin is a big problem which not only requires the expenditure of much energy but a large amount of money and the "Land Clearing Limited" will serve as a means of starting a state wide movement toward placing more of this promising region under the plow.

CLOSED SEASON FOR FROGS NOW

If you like frogs' legs and don't grow them—that is, the frogs—yourself for home consumption, you'd better buy them and not try to catch them wild.

During the months of March and April of each year, the leapers are immune from capture, made so by the laws of the state, and only those persons engaged in the occupation of propagating frogs or using them for scientific and educational purposes may kill the agile croakers.

This bill was passed three years ago and was introduced by a member of the legislature from Berlin. In the lower part of the state where frog hunting is followed by many as a means of livelihood, the law is being rigidly enforced, the hunters themselves being the ones that are most interested in its enforcement.

The law, of course, does not cover private frog farms where frogs are raised for market purposes, several of which we have in operation in this state.

MADE LAST LONG DISTANCE WALK

Thos. O'Brien who during the past few years made several long trips afoot across the country, tells the New North that he is through with it, that he is satisfied with the glory he has gotten out of it thus far, and that in the future his travels will be in the cushioned seats of regular passenger-trains. The record kept of his various journeys afoot shows a total of more than 10,000 miles.

The only misfortune of any consequence met with on any of his trips was last winter when he started out from Wapeton, N. D., one morning with a temperature of twenty below zero. He was nearly overcome by the intense cold and one of his hands was badly frozen and he was in a hospital at Breckenridge, Minn., six weeks as a result. The hand was saved but at the cost of three stiff fingers. This experience he says cooled his ardor for overland trips. However he is of the opinion that his previous walks was of great benefit to him and that they were in a large measure responsible for his restoration to health.

CHEAP MOTOR FUEL

That grain alcohol which can be produced for from 13 to 15 cents a gallon is the best substitute for gasoline which is retailing at about 30 cents a gallon is the opinion of Howard F. Weiss, director of the Forest Products Laboratory at the University of Wisconsin.

As a result of experiments which have been carried on for three years by the laboratory, grain alcohol has been produced at 13 cents a gallon. The market price is 55 cents a gallon. Twenty-five gallons have been produced by the laboratory from one ton of sawdust, and Mr. Weiss estimates that by using only the saw mill wastewood which is entirely lost at present, 500,000, 000 gallons of grain alcohol can be produced.

Details of the experiments are being submitted to the federal government and to two large commercial firms which plan to build factories for the manufacture of alcohol by this process. Molasses, potatoes, corn, and any product containing sugar may be converted into alcohol by the same process.

His Long-Lost Five Dollars
An elderly gentleman of rural appearance had hardly seated himself in the crosstown car when a young lady who had followed him approached him. "Did you lose a $5 bill?" she asked, according to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. For a moment the farmer observed her with a surprised, curious look, then said convincingly: "Yes, ma'am, I did." "Then here it is," said she, handing the bill to him. "I picked it up behind you from the car floor." "Thank you very much, young lady, for your honesty. This is a most remarkable happening." "Oh, I don't think so, sir. I believe everyone should return the money in such a case as this. What is there so remarkable about it?" "Why, I lost my $5 two years ago."

"Sure I do, dad," said the Robb Rubens. "At least, I think she would on this farm of yours, anyhow, for you see, dad, that caw, as you call her, isn't a caw at all, but a water tank."

THE man who votes illegally should be punished, but the man who causes him to vote illegally, should receive a greater punishment.

LAST Tuesday's election showed that the better element in our city felt the gravity of the political situation, took a decided stand and WON.

WE believe in honesty and economy in public affairs but to secure this, men must be chosen, whose past records are above reproach. Old dogs cannot learn new tricks.

PREPAREDNESS seems to have been the slogan at some of our county voting precincts. Armed intervention is some times necessary in extreme cases.

A FEW brave little robins insist upon ignoring climatic conditions and spend their time in calling out to the shivering passers by "cheer up," "cheer up."

MANY people who boast of their principles are very ready to throw them over when policy dictates. This is especially true of politicians, and is one of the marks by which the mere politician may be distinguished from a statesman.

WE wonder if when Wisconsin women are given the power to vote at the election polls, there will be the same number of street corners loafers, talking politics and expectorating on the sidewalks in a we-are-the-people sort of way.

BY the death of Dr. James Angell, America has lost one of its greatest educators and diplomats. His capacity for work was enormous and his influence for good was far reaching. In time of war he wielded a masterful pen and in time of peace, he trained the youth to meet the battles of life. He lived a good old age, ripe with excellent deeds.

WORK OF ADVANCEMENT ASSOCIATION FOR ONE YEAR

(By E. O. Barstow, Secretary Rhinelander Advancement Ass'n.)

The By-Laws of the Advancement Association requires the secretary to give a report of the association's activities during the year. Last week I gave a partial report of the industrial situation and some of the work the industrial committee has devoted its activities to during the past year.

The Board of Directors of this Association of whom Messrs. A. E. Weesner, S. B. Gary, T. C. Wood, J. Wiesman, B. R. Lewis, J. O. Moen, E. A. Forbes, F. W. Meen, C. F. Smith, E. O. Brown, C. P. Crosby, J. Segerstrom, M. H. Raymond, E. Sterling, and D. F. Becker were members have met forty times during the year. These meetings generally last from two to three hours and each member of the Board is chairman of a committee. You can readily see the amount of time these men have given for your welfare and that of the city's in general. The fact is, that it is due to the active co-operation of the Board of Directors that we have accomplished what we have.

The association has at different times made trips to Madison to argue for the location of a new normal, before the Board of Regents. This has not been decided by the Board of Regents, and it is hard to ascertain when definite action will be taken. However, we feel that none of our rights have been neglected, because the board has been looking after this matter, and believe that we have established before the board our cause.

The committee on hotel affairs has spent a large amount of time and as you all know have had two or three different propositions up, which looked as though a hotel company was to be formed by outside parties, but through no fault of the association these propositions fell through. After a considerable investigation of this matter it was deemed best to proceed with a local organization, which the committee has formed, and as a result of the activities of this committee and the sanction of the Board, a local hotel company has been formed for $60,000 and brought up to a state of affairs whereby the matter has been turned over to the Rhinelander Hotel Company, and this association and the work of this committee is to be congratulated that a hotel will be built in this city this year.

It is through the work of the committee of the Board that a Chautauqua was brought to this city and was successfully carried out, as there is now in the hands of the treasurer a surplus left from last year's chautauqua. A number of cities that had chautauquas last year had a deficiency, which had to be made up by the citizens who guaranteed the total amount, so again we are to be congratulated for having put this proposition through in a successful manner and this required time and a great deal of preliminary work and arrangements in order to bring this proposition to a successful termination.

The business men's bureau has established closer relations between the business men and the association. The interests of the merchants and customers are identical, and have been benefited by the adoption of business like methods and improvement in trading conditions. To this end a rating system has been established. The credit rating is not a plan to destroy the credit of people, but to encourage the payment of just debts, and evidently to raise the standard of personal credit and to bring about and cause a reduction of doing business. This will be a benefit both to the merchants and to the individual. The merchants bureau has also sent out over 1200 letters to prospective customers living out of the city, stating the reasons why they should trade in Rhinelander.

A large number of circular letters have been sent to manufacturers, giving the reasons why Rhinelander has superior advantages and why they should establish their factory here.

The Board of Directors formed a special committee of which Dr. Richards was chairman to look after the Hygienic Laboratory, which the State Board of Health was authorized to locate in northern Wisconsin. Dr. Richards appeared before the State Board of Health, giving the reasons why Rhinelander should be selected as a city in which to establish this laboratory. Quite a number of the cities in northern Wisconsin desired the location of this laboratory, and the state board instructed Dr. Harper to make a tour of the cities that were contending for the laboratory and to make a report to the state board at a meeting to be held some time later. Dr. Harper visited the various cities, also Rhinelander and asked that we make up a brief, setting forth the reasons why Rhinelander should be selected. Under the supervision of Dr. Richards this brief was made and sent to each member of the Board of Health and after considering this question for about a day, Rhinelander was selected as the city in which the state laboratory was to be established, over the claims of Eau Claire, Superior, Ashland, Fond du Lac, and other cities. The laboratory is now established in the court house and will be of great benefit to the Northern Wisconsin, Oneida county and the city of Rhinelander.

The board has been unable this year to advertise for settlers, because of the lack of money. This is one of the important things to the benefit of Rhinelander, because community advertising will build up our surrounding country. We claim Oneida county is a great dairymaking county; as has been proven through the co-operation of this association with Mr. Juday by holding County Potato Shows that Oneida county leads all other counties in the United States, in the production of potatoes. Great credit is due to the farmers, who have successfully grown potatoes in this county, also great credit to Mr. Juday for his active work in bringing about this situation. If this association could follow this up with a large amount of community advertising, it would not only help the farmers who are located in this county, but would help every city and farming community in the county, because by bringing more settlers here, will advance the price of land.

This association is willing at all times to cooperate with the farmers of the county and with Mr. Juday in doing everything possible to make a greater county of Oneida.

The good roads committee have from time to time placed argument before the State Highway Commission, showing the reason why Rhinelander should be put on their main highway known as the Central Wisconsin Route. Co-operating with the State Advancement Association as we have, it has marked the yellow circle route through Rhinelander, also the red circle route. The yellow circle route runs from Green Bay to Minneapolis and the red circle from Eagle River to Madison. These routes are about completed and this coming summer will undoubtedly see a large number of tourists following the routes.

The Advancement Association published a map showing the number of lakes within a 12 mile radius around Rhinelander, which was drawn by Mr. J. J. Remo. A large number of requests have come to the association from all parts of the United States for these maps. Rhinelander is at the base of the summer resort district, or the playground of the north, and with the securing of a new hotel, travel of tourists will be directed more towards Rhinelander than ever before.

It would be almost impossible to give a detailed account of the important projects which this association had turned its attention to during the past year. A large number of letters of inquiry have been answered. Information requiring considerable effort to obtain and prepare has been supplied to some of these correspondents.

Advertising matter, such as we have been able to publish has been sent out and it is generally considered that the work of the association has been most important this year.

I desire to thank the members of the board of directors for the active support they have given to the secretary, also to the Rhinelander News and the New North in their willingness to co-operate with this association. The people in general of this city are greatly indebted to the two newspapers for the free publicity that they give to our city and to the county. I would be glad at any time to go over the work of the association with any member or citizen of Rhinelander. If they would call at the office, because criticism invariably comes from those who stand aloof and do nothing themselves, and are unwilling to loyally support those who are trying to do something for the city's advancement.

DEATH RESULTS FROM INJURY

Sam Christensen, a resident of this city for fifteen years, died Sunday morning at St. Mary's hospital, following an operation made necessary from an injury which he sustained while at work in one of the Stange company's camps last winter, when he was struck by a heavy car stake. He was fifty-two years of age and is survived by his wife and three children, who reside at 14 Alban street. Funeral services were held at St. Mary's church Tuesday morning at nine o'clock.

BARSTOW TO LEAVE

Mr. E. O. Barstow has resigned as Secretary of the Advancement Association, his resignation to take effect May 6. His resignation has not yet been accepted. Mr. Barstow states that he is called to Manitowish at a larger salary and cannot afford to turn down a position so much to his advantage. He is keenly interested in this city's welfare and it is with regret that he leaves. On account of lack of space we cannot give the large number of enterprises Mr. Barstow has given his attention to, for the betterment of our city, but it speaks well of the gentleman that so much has been accomplished in the short time he has been with us.

V. N. A. GIVES ANNUAL REPORT

Much Good Work Being Done Among the Sick and Needy Of Rhinelander

Annual report of the Visiting Nurse Association, beginning March 15, 1915 and ending March 26, 1916. All things in this world are subject to change some time or other, as we are just entering into a new year of our work, perhaps it would not be amiss to carry this thought into the V. N. A. work.

In looking over the past records, we see an endless amount of good work, that can never be valued in dollars and cents, but there are new conditions and new problems arising every day that need to be looked into and met on the level.

Helping someone to help them, selves spells real charity, and unless this is the aim of our work it becomes a poison that will kill quick and sure. Unless we can implant an ideal into the hearts and lives of the unfortunate we will never be able to lift them out of their misery, if they have nothing better or higher to live for than just their daily bread, we can never get them out of the ruts.

Any suggestions or help that might be offered would be greatly appreciated, as we know that there are many things that might be of value that might be overlooked by those who see and hear so much misery and woe every day.

We invite criticism and suggestions.

FOR RELIEF OF BELGIANS

The school girls' sewing class, started Oct. 30, 1915, and organized in Feb., 1916, under the name of "The Sunshine Workers Club", have met for seventeen regular classes and two special parties. They have had three parties and at the present time there are about forty girls enrolled. This club has accomplished some very good work; at present they are finishing a nine block patch quilt and have collected money enough from their one cent dues to buy the filling and lining. This quilt is to be given to the V. N. A. Since affiliating with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, we have had three calls, but all have been dismissed with the initial visit.

$118.5 has been collected from November 1, 1915 to March 1, 1916, for nursing service. 92 visits, 111 hours nursing.

Six lectures and five demonstrations were given during "Baby Week" March 4 to 11, 1916.

The linen chest has been quite well filled. Some new material was purchased to be made up and a number of old clothes were contributed.

Two meetings of exceptional importance to people in and around Rhinelander will be held in the city next Saturday afternoon, April 8.

The one, a Farmers' Institute for men will be held in the circuit room at the court house. This meeting will be in charge of H. W. Ulmsperger who will give a talk on the "Management of Soils" and John D. Imrie who will give a talk on "Hog Raising in a System of Dairy Farming." Both these men are successful farmers and have had farming about which they will talk. This meeting will begin at 1:30 and no person interested in farming can afford to miss it.

The other will be a women's meeting conducted by Miss Maxwell, an instructor in Domestic Science at the University. Her work will consist of a cooking demonstration and this will be followed by a talk upon "The Value of Vegetables in the Diet." This meeting will be held in the new high school building and will begin at 2:30 sharp. In the evening at 7:30 Miss Maxwell will give a talk on the "Arrangement and Decoration of the Home." Miss Maxwell has had similar meetings at different places throughout the state during the winter and in each place has given excellent satisfaction. Her talks and demonstrations will be enjoyable as well as profitable and will be more than valuable to every lady interested in a home.

No matter whether you are living in the country or city these meetings will prove of value to you.

It is seldom that as good instruction as Rhinelander is to have on Saturday can be engaged and we should all show our appreciation by giving them a large turn out at each session. The meetings are free to all and your attendance and cooperation is solicited.

John Small and Glen Small of Gagen spent yesterday in the city. They returned this morning.

The Commission for the relief of the Belgians is making a great effort to gather together another supply of clothing and food, as it is only a matter of a few weeks when the Belgians will be starving. Seven cents will provide food for a destitute person for one day. The Daughters of the Revolution have been asked to take up the matter and assist. They have sent out to every D. A. R. Chapter and to D. A. R. members in towns where there is no Chapter, packages of card flags, which are to sell for seven or more cents. A Flag Day has been organized to be held on the anniversary of King Albert's birthday, April 8. An appeal is made to churches and public institutions as well as individuals. It is generally understood that if the U. S. does not come to their rescue, thousands of these people will starve. We are their only salvation.

Any one who wishes to contribute toward this cause may buy these flags at the New North office, Mrs. Lowell will send the money to the D. A. R. headquarters.

WELL KNOWN SURVEYOR DIES

B. F. Dorr of Antigo, well known to many of our residents, passed from this life on Saturday evening, March 25, at the age of 83 years, death resulting from general debility. He had resided in Antigo since 1882. In the early days of Rhinelander he was a frequent visitor to this city, being called here to act in his capacity as surveyor, and the news of his death was received with regret by his many old time friends in Rhinelander. On matters pertaining to civil engineering he was an accepted authority and his book, "Surveyors Guide and Pocket Table Book", published many years ago is extensively used and still has a large sale among surveyors throughout the country. He platted the city of Antigo and was founder of the village of Elcho.

GETTING READY

Local navigators of the upper river are getting their launches ready for the coming season. Engines are being overhauled, hulls painted, boat houses repaired, and, in fact, everything put in first class condition for a busy summer. Several new launches are to be added to the fleet which indicates that boating is still to remain a popular pastime.

Messrs. Johnson and Anderson, who operate the boat livery, anticipate a greatly increased patronage this season and are making every preparation possible to care for it. It is believed that many tourists will spend their vacations here instead of going to the lakes farther north as the river offers excellent fishing and if they do not care to remain up river nights it is but the matter of a few minutes' time to get back to the comforts of town life.

Backache, headache,
dragging pains.
Nothing relieved me until I took Peruna

Thousands of the best women in the world are bearing the burden of backache, headache, dragging pains, a miserable half-dead, half-alive condition, produced by chronic internal derangements. Mrs. Joseph Lacelle, 124 Glenora Ave., Ottawa East, Ontario, Canada, is one of the fair women of America who has had her experience with this sort of a burden. Her experience is similar to the multitude of other women whose letters are recorded in the "ills of Life." A copy of this free booklet ought to be in the hands of every housewife in the United States. Read what Mrs. Lacelle says:

"I suffered with backache, headache and dragging pains for over nine months, and nothing relieved me until I took Peruna. This medicine is by far better than any other medicine for these troubles. A few bottles relieved me of my miserable half-dead, half-alive condition. I am now in good health, have neither ache nor pain, nor have I had any for the past year. If every suffering woman would take Peruna, they would soon know its value and never be without it."

"Bud" Lewis was at Minocqua Tuesday, going up to interest a couple residents of that village in the purchase of an auto. "Bud" is there when it comes to explaining the good points of the Mitchell or Dodge cars. He has sold several already this season.

Miss Gertrude Means entertained her young friends in honor of her seventh birthday Monday. It was in the nature of an Easter party as there was an egg hunt and other games. Jean Jackson won first prize in the egg hunt, and Audrey Nixon won second prize. The little folks are enjoying their parties quite as much as the grown ups.

News was received by Mrs. Geo. Hilgerman Sunday, announcing the death of her aunt, Mrs. Mary Hughes of Peoria. Her remains have been taken to Iowa where her husband is buried. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will be remembered by many in this city as they spent several months at the home of Mrs. Charlton, a number of years ago.

J. T. Showers of Bolivar, N. Y., was in Rhinelander the first of the week, his visit being for the purpose of looking over land in this vicinity with a view of purchasing a farm and locating in this county. The gentleman was disappointed to find so much snow remaining and will return later in the year to complete his investigations.

Rev. DeJung of the German Lutheran church, Monday evening united in marriage Miss Esther Peterson and Wm. Davies, both of this city. The newlyweds are well known and popular young people and in their new relations have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy journey along life's pathway.

Frank Bibby is making alterations to the Pabst building on Brown street purchased last fall by Julius Edwin for an auto livery and garage. For the present no new building will be done but another year it is likely that the vacant ground included in the purchase will be utilized for a modern up-to-date block.

The present time is a most favorable one for the maple sugar and syrup makers of the county as the nights are just cold enough to induce the proper flow of sap from the trees. Sugar maple groves are getting scarcer each year and as a result a good article in the maple syrup and sugar line command about double the price it did a few years ago.

Mrs. Gwidt will remain in the city until after Easter when she will join him. Roy White has purchased Mr. Gwidt's cigar business.

Pat Murray, an Indian from Cranston, claiming conversion, passed through town Monday, enroute to Lac du Flambeau, where he hopes to practice religion among his people on the reservation. Mr. Murray is very sincere in singing his prayers with accompaniment by the Tom-Tom and gave several exhibitions around town, each of which was followed by the customary act of passing the hat. It is needless to say Pat's little act got the necessary traveling expenses for his wife and papoose, who acted as silent partners during the services.

THE LAW AND POWER OF HABIT

Walter C. Heyl, pastor of the Congregational church, delivered a sermon Sunday at the vesper service on the topic: "The Law and Power of Habit." Quotations were made from several authorities including the late William James. The aim of the speaker was to show how the formation of the wrong kind of habits tends to defeat and how the right kind of habits become our allies and lead to success in life. The law and power of both classes of habits were pointed out and enforced by striking illustrations taken from the experience of different individuals.

A few quotations follow: "How easy it is to be nobody; it is the simplest thing in the world to drift down the stream, into bad company, into the saloon; just a little beer, just a little gambling, just a little bad company, just a little killing of time, and the work is done."—Orison Sweet Marden.

"The chain of habit coils itself around the heart like a serpent, to gnaw and stifle it."—Haslitt.

"You cannot, in any given case, by any sudden and simple effort, will to be true, if the HABIT of your life has been INSINCERITY."—F. W. Robertson.

"Man's life work is a masterpiece or a botch according as each little habit has been perfectly or carelessly formed."—Marden.

"So with the man who has daily inured himself to habits of concentrated attention, energetic volition, and self-denial in unnecessary things. He will stand like a tower when everything rocks around him, and when his softer fellow mortals are winnowed like chaff in the blast."—Wm. James.

"The hell to be endured hereafter, of which theology tells, is no worse than the hell we make for ourselves in this world by habitually fashioning our characters in the wrong way. Could the young but realize how soon they will become mere walking bundles of habits, they would give more heed to their conduct while in the plastic state. We are spinning our own fates, good or evil, and never to be undone. Every smallest stroke of virtue leaves its never so little scar. The drunken Rip Van Winkle, in Jefferson's play, excuses himself for every fresh dereliction by saying 'I won't count this time.' Well, he may not count it, and a kind heaven may not count it; but it is being counted never the less. Down among his nerve cells and fibers the molecules are counting it, registering and storing it up to be used against him when the next temptation comes."—Wm. James.

Mr. Heyl showed how the habit of sin works, slowly but certainly, it undermines the character and rots down the life of the individual. A strong appeal was made to the boys not to form the habit of using tobacco. Mr. Dwight L. Moody was asked if a person could be a Christian and use tobacco and he said, "Yes, but he would, in that case, be a dirty one." Mr. Heyl said, "Keep your body, mind and soul clean! Form the habit of true kindness, friendliness, and joyousness. Form the habit of hard toil at some worthy, self-respecting work! Form the habit of loving the true, the beautiful, the good. Hold yourselves steadily in the presence of the best."

At the Congregational church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock W. C. Heyl will speak on the subject: "Gideon's Band or Folks With Backbone." You will want to hear this message. There are three classes of folks in this world. 1. Those who say: "It can't be done." 2. "It ought to be done." 3. And those who say "It can be done." Come out Sunday and determine to which class you belong.

At 4:30 vesper service. Orchestra music, special singing, and a lecture on the subject: "How Little Things Make or Mar a Human Life." There was a splendid attendance at the vesper service last Sunday. These services will close on Easter Day, April 23. Help make the remaining vesper services a success. Intermediate Christian Endeavor at 3:30. Young Peoples' gathering at 7:15. Bible School at 10 a. m.

A cordial welcome awaits you at all of these services.

WALTER C. HEYL, Minister.

Cheerfulness Above Levity.
Between levity and cheerfulness there is a wide distinction; the mind that is most open to the former is frequently a stranger to the latter. Levity may be the offspring of folly or vice; cheerfulness is the natural offspring of wisdom and virtue.—Blair.
